

Jamie Bame

Associate

Jamie practices as a litigator in all areas of intellectual property law with a special focus on patent and trademark litigation. After graduating in the top 10% of her law school class at BYU Law, Jamie gained considerable patent litigation experience while clerking for the Honorable Chief Judge Colm F. Connolly in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware. Jamie then gained valuable appellate experience as a clerk for the Honorable Judge Joel M. Carson III for the United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit. As a law student, Jamie worked as an editor for the BYU Law Review and as a teaching assistant for the first-year legal research and writing course. Jamie is barred in Utah, New Mexico, and California.
