workman nydegger

Gregory R. Lunt Named Equity Shareholder at Workman Nydegger

January 16, 2015

Gregory R. Lunt has been named equity shareholder at Workman Nydegger, Utah’s largest intellectual property firm.

Mr. Lunt has been a registered patent attorney since 2006. He received a Bachelor of Science in Electronics Engineering Technology from Brigham Young University, and went on to graduate from Creighton University School of Law.

Mr. Lunt focuses his practice on preparing and prosecuting domestic and foreign patent applications in a variety of areas. Other areas of focus include patent portfolio evaluation, and conducting in-person Examiner interviews in Washington, D.C. Mr. Lunt regularly works with small businesses, large corporations, and educational entities to provide U.S. and foreign patent filing strategies.

Based in Salt Lake City, Workman Nydegger has been consistently recognized as one of the top intellectual property firms in the nation. Workman Nydegger represents a wide array of clients in all areas of intellectual property law including patent, trademark, copyright, unfair competition, and related litigation and licensing matters in a diverse range of technologies including computer systems, software, e-commerce and information technology; electronics and electrical engineering; pharmaceutical, chemical, biotechnology and life science; physics and optics; mechanics and mechanical engineering and alternative energy. For additional information, please visit www.wnlaw.com.