November 6, 2013

Thomas R. Vuksinick, a litigator at Workman Nydegger, Utah's largest intellectual property law firm, has been named Salt Lake City Patent Litigation Lawyer of the Year in the 2014 Best Lawyers® guide. Only a single lawyer in each practice area and metropolitan area is honored as Lawyer of the Year. He is also listed in the guide as a top ranked "Best Lawyer" in intellectual property litigation. Vuksinick is a senior member of the firm's litigation group. His areas of practice include the litigation of patent infringement issues, unfair competition claims, trademark infringement, false advertising, and employer/employee relations, including covenants not to compete.

Based in Salt Lake City, Workman Nydegger is Utah's largest intellectual property law firm with 40 attorneys and one patent agent. It provides local, national and international client counseling on patents, trademarks, copyrights and intellectual property litigation and is ranked as a top firm by Intellectual Property Today and Chambers USA. Since it was first published in 1983, Best Lawyers® has become universally regarded as the definitive guide to legal excellence. Because Best Lawyers is based on an exhaustive peer-review survey in which almost 50,000 leading attorneys cast nearly five million votes on the legal abilities of other lawyers in their practice areas, and because lawyers are not required or allowed to pay a fee to be listed, inclusion in Best Lawyers is considered a singular honor. Corporate Counsel magazine has called Best Lawyers "the most respected referral list of attorneys in practice."
