

Oral Hearing Presented by Three Workman Nydegger Attorneys Featured at the 12th Annual ABA-IPL Trademark Days with the USPTO

September 18, 2024

Workman Nydegger is proud to announce that our attorneys, John Stringham, Matthew Barlow, and Ryan Morris, recently participated in an oral hearing for the case Revolution Jewelry Works, Inc. v. Stonebrook Jewelry, LLC DBA Revolution Jewelry, Proceeding No. 91248007. The hearing was viewed live at the 12th annual ABA-IPL Trademark Days, held in partnership with the USPTO on Tuesday, September 17, 2024. This annual event provides a unique opportunity for legal professionals to engage with leading experts in intellectual property law and exchange insights on trademark issues.

We are honored that our attorneys were able to represent Workman Nydegger in such a prominent forum and would like to extend our appreciation to the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board (USPTO) and the American Bar Association for allowing our attorneys to participate.

Workman Nydegger specializes in intellectual property law and litigation. The firm represents a wide array of clients in all areas of intellectual property law, including patent, trademark, copyright, litigation and prosecution, unfair competition, and related licensing matters, and possesses expertise in a diverse range of technologies, including computer systems, software, e-commerce, and information technology; electronics and electrical engineering; pharmaceutical, nutraceutical, chemical, biotechnology, and medical and life science technologies; physics and optics; mechanics and mechanical engineering and alternative energy.
